Andrew O. Long

Andrew Oscar Long, 83, of Rt. 1, Rossville, died Saturday at 1:05 p.m. in Home Hospital following an eight week illness. Born in Jasper County Oct. 1, 1890, he was the son of David and Sarah Frantz Long. His marriage Nov. 30, 1911, was to Orpha Eunice Beeghley. A retired farmer, he was a member of the Northfork Old Baptist Church. Surviving with the widow are two sons, Chester and Daniel Long of Rt. 1, Rossville; three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Ellen Flory of Baldwin, Kan.; Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Jessup of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Virginia Bellah of Rt. 1, Rossville; a sister, Mrs. Mary Reavis of Rt. 1, Rossville; two brothers, Charles Long of Rossville and Bernice Long of Pendleton; 17 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

Services were Tuesday afternoon at Northfork Old Baptist Church with home brethren ministers in charge. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Almost 150 people, all government servants and their families, now live in the Tower of London, which for hundreds of years was Britain's most forbidding prison and where many an enemy of the ruling monarch was beheaded, including two of Henry VIII's wives.

Dear Mrs Hand :

I spent a most enjoyable afternoon with a friend of your, Nel Resor, in Indianapolis. She thinks that you could put me in touch with Lewis A Frantz, past Sup. Schools of Royal Center, of which I would much appreciate.

OF WASHINGTON COUNTY, MARYLAND.

RINGER'S CHURCH.—*An extract from a lecture delivered in Odd Fellow's Hall, Boonsboro, in 1858, by L. A. Brunner says: "The people of Boonsboro worshipped at Ringer's and Schwank's Churches until 1810. The former was Lutheran, the latter Reformed; and the time of their erection antedates the Declaration of Independence."

The site of Ringer's Church referred to in this extract is about three miles west from Boonsboro, near Monroe Church, on what was the old Peter Ringer homestead. Those living who remember attending services at this church describe it as being built of logs, afterwards "rough-casted." There was no painting on woodwork inside and the pulpit is described as being a small paneled enclosure with just enough space for the preacher to stand, and elevated on a single post about four feet high with narrow steps leading up to the platform. A small board on top of panel served as rest for Bible. At the side of the church, to the left of pulpit and near to it was a paneled enclosure, reserved for deacons. In front of pulpit and little to left was a table made of solid walnut which was used for communion services. There was a large walnut chest beneath pulpit which contained the communion set of pitcher, cups and plates, all made of pewter. A peculiar device used in taking the collection consisted of a pole about 6 feet long painted black on end of which was suspended from a ring a small black velvet sack tapering to a point from which dangled a tassel.

The church has been torn down more than fifty years ago. A graveyard nearby on same place contains the graves of those buried more than 100 years ago and the space is quite filled.
